Development Potential

EPR Architects and Alchemy Asset Management have carried out two feasibility studies, both identifying the potential to substantially increase massing of the building through either full redevelopment or partial infill.

2019 Office Feasibility Study

This study was informed by three preapplication meetings with Hammersmith & Fulham. The proposed schemes focused on office use with ancillary retail, integrating with the podium's public space. The feasibility study explored options to increase massing up to 362,000 sq ft—a 345% uplift.

Both the study and the written pre-app responses are available on the data site.

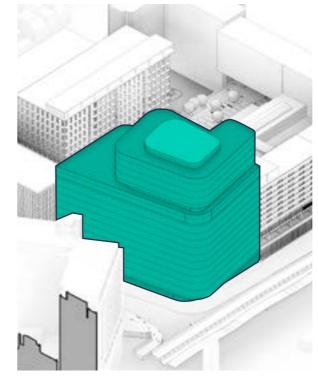

2024 Mixed Use Feasibility

A subsequent study for a high density, mixed use, infill scheme was carried out in 2024. This scheme shifted from the wholescale redevelopment proposed in a 2019 pre-app to a strategy focused on retaining much of the existing structure while optimising the site's potential. Two options were explored and have been discussed Hammersmith Council:

- Option 1 proposes a retrofit and upward extension of the current office space with student housing is delivered via new build. Increasing massing by 87,697 sq ft.
- Option 2 involves a new office building with student housing being delivered through a conversion of the existing building.

 Increasing massing by 90,797 sq ft.

Retention of Planning

Daniel Watney have provided a detailed note setting out the key planning considerations relevant to the repositioning of the building. Their note states the following:

- Current Planning policy is supportive of additional floorspace through either retrofit and extension, or redevelopment of the building.
- Planning officers have not raised issue with the principle of additional floorspace for this building during the pre-application processes in 2019 and 2024.
- The current planning policies also support the mixed use enhancement, or intensification of employment sites where they are underutilised, subject to the satisfactory retention of or replacement of employment use.
- Approximately 40% of the building is currently vacant and this will form part of the evidence that will be needed to justify a reduction in employment floorspace.
- The case could be made for the introduction of housing, co-living, student and hotel accommodation as part of a mixed- use scheme.
